

DO YOU YEARN FOR TRULY MEANINGFUL COMMUNITY?

A Seminar with Bill Kauth and Zoe Alowan authors of
“We Need Each Other”

West Hills Unitarian
Universalist Fellowship
8470 SW Oleson Road
Portland OR

Thursday, May 12th
7:00 to 9:30 PM

This work is designed to change the world ~ one intimate Core Gift Community at a time. As each of us builds our own trusting, long-term, face-to-face tribe of men and women, we are creating the safe places needed to generate the new systems of an emerging "gift" culture. Here we each live and give our gifts. This is a world we can have right now if we can wake from our trance to see how wealthy, wise and competent we truly are as a species. We hope to both inspire you and offer the “how-to” details you will need to build your own “core” community designed to live into this vision. Welcome to a truly joyous adventure. ~~~ Bill & Zoe

“Bill Kauth and Zoe Alowan take on a defining crisis of our time — the loss of community — with great humility, insight, and passion. This book is a hands-on guide to creating community as the unraveling of the old world accelerates. Gentle yet uncompromising, its every chapter is alive and rings with truth.”
Charles Eisenstein, faculty; Penn State, Goddard College, Author, The Ascent of Humanity and Sacred Economics

Bill and Zoe, married in 2008, work together learning and teaching the concepts and processes of Gift Community. They are committed to bringing about a healing understanding of the essential feminine and masculine with a focus on building communities. Together they have authored the book “We Need Each Other”, and have delivered over 25 Gift Community seminars around the world.
